

Quality, Affordability, and Short Lead Times Fuel Kitchen Cabinet Distributors' Growth

Now Open, 180,000 Sq. Foot Cabinet Facility Better Serves Customers in the South and Southwest

RALEIGH, North Carolina — February 6, 2019 — The new year is off to a big start at Kitchen Cabinet Distributors' newest distribution center and showroom in Houston, Texas, the company's first facility outside of its Raleigh, North Carolina headquarters. Opened in January 2019, the facility was built in response to rising demand among the region's contractors and builders for ready-to-assemble (RTA) cabinets.

"Our goal is to provide affordable, beautifully crafted cabinets with the industry's best lead times," says Randy Goldstein, CEO of Kitchen Cabinet Distributors. "By partnering with us, our customers increase their job capacity without sacrificing quality."

Kitchen Cabinet Distributors was founded in 2007 with a mission to provide affordable, high-quality cabinets for contractors, home improvement dealers, building materials suppliers, and cabinet shops. Twelve years and hundreds of thousands of cabinets later, that same mission is fueling the company's expansion into its 180,000 square-foot Houston facility.

In Texas, the company sees an opportunity to serve some of the country's fastest-growing housing markets, including Houston, San Antonio, Austin, and Dallas. "Our new Houston location will give our partners in the South and Southwest a competitive advantage in the marketplace," adds Goldstein. "Cabinets can be ordered through our online Dealer Portal with optional assembly services. Additionally, the Dealer Portal allows customers to view availability, access product specifications, and manage account information. We have a staff of professional customer care associates ready to help through the entire purchase process."

From high-end homes to multi-family buildings, Kitchen Cabinet Distributors' products have been used in both remodeling and new construction projects across the United States. The company offers a full portfolio of products in high-demand colors and styles. "Whites and grays continue to dominate kitchen and bath projects, but we also offer a variety of other colors and designs to suit varying tastes," says Goldstein.

Kirk Dalton, cabinet manager for BMC Houston and long-time KCD partner, adds, "Not all RTA cabinet companies are the same in their commitment to quality. Having Kitchen Cabinet Distributors in Houston means a lot to the regional construction industry. They take the time and worry out of buying cabinets."
